

How can YOU join??

Contact a 4-H Leader listed on the inside of this flyer, call the University of Illinois Extension-Stephenson County Office at 815-235-4125, or see our website at: go.illinois.edu/jsw

The 4-H program encourages independent awareness and responsibility by emphasizing the importance of “learning by doing.” 4-H projects and activities are designed to provide hands-on learning with an emphasis on science, leadership, communication, and citizenship skills.

4-H members may choose projects on more than 200 topics ranging from aerospace to gardening and child development to vet science! Club activities are designed from a “see it, do it, teach it” model.

4-H is open to everyone regardless of where you live, race, religion, color, gender, marital status, national origin, disability, or political belief.

For questions and/or more information, please contact the following 4-H Youth Development Staff:
