Planning Meals to Save Money and Eat Well

Plan Meals for a Week

1. Add your schedule to a weekly calendar.

2. Decide on dinner menus first.

3. When you don’t have much time to prepare dinner use these ideas:
   - do some meal preparation the evening before or early in the morning (be sure to refrigerate food to avoid food spoilage),
   - plan to use leftovers,
   - use a crock pot to cook food slowly and safely, or
   - choose quick-to-cook meals.

4. Check foods that you have on hand. Plan to use them in meals.

5. Check grocery ads for menu ideas.

6. Add in lunch ideas on weekly calendar. Dinner leftovers can be good lunches.

7. Add in foods for healthy breakfasts and snacks. Try these options:
   - Whole grain cereal topped with low-fat yogurt
   - Breakfast burrito made with scrambled eggs inside a whole grain tortilla, topped with salsa and low-fat cheese
   - Frozen juice bars made with 100% fruit juice
   - Peanut butter and fruit, such as raisins, banana slices or apple slices packed in between 2 graham cracker squares

8. Write your shopping list from your weekly calendar.
