4-H RECORD BOOK GUIDELINES

DIRECTIONS:

If you are applying for 4-H county awards, you must follow the guidelines outlined below. You will fill out the "Ogle County Project Honor Award and 4-H Experience Award Application", AKA, "the blue sheets".

- ✓ You may only list something you did once. Decide where you need the points the most! You may receive points for participation and for leadership IF you are specific and clear that they are different. For example: you may mark that you attended Penny Carnival as a participant because you didn't assist your club during the event, and you also may mark that you served at the Penny Carnival if you helped build the game at another date, and clearly state that you helped build the game. If you just mark that you "attended" Penny Carnival and "were on" the Penny Carnival committee, you will lose points for not clarifying what you did.
- ✓ I strongly suggest doing Participation last. Get as much as you can on the blue sheet in other sections, which may be harder to fill.
- ✓ Use the cheat sheet on the next page to make sure you have included ALL the activities you participated in on your blue sheet!

TIPS FOR A SUCCESSFUL 4-H RECORD BOOK:

- ✓ Be sure your name and 4-H club is on the front cover of the binder, as well as on any loose applications you are submitting.
- ✓ Be sure that you have dated all project records.
- ✓ You must also include an "Attachment A" for EACH project you are enrolled in, whether you took a project to fair or not.
- ✓ You may also include Animal and Crop Records for extra points.
- ✓ You should include past years' project work. Your book will be an accumulation of project work over your 4-H Career.
- ✓ You may include a couple of pictures in your record book. Pictures are not required, but they may help judges gain a better understanding of your work and make your book more interesting and memorable. This should be located after your corresponding project records.
- ✓ Do not include things in your record book that do not belong. The only things your record book should have in it are record forms, photos, and newspaper clippings. Do not include old yellow award applications, health papers, fair tags/ribbons, etc. These are wonderful things to hang onto, but they clutter your record book and make it tough for judges to find what they are looking for. Consider making a 4-H scrapbook or memory box in which to store these things.
- ✓ The 4-H Foundation/"I Dare You"/Co-Op Watch Award Applications should be placed inside the front cover of your binder.
- ✓ Use the guidelines below on your record book order. Books should be bound in a binder or folder, utilizing tabs to help judges find your information. Your name and club must be included on the outside of your binder or folder.

BINDER ORDER:

4-Hers should bind their record forms in accordance with county record book guidelines. Members may use any type of binder they choose. All 4-Hers are given soft cover 4-H records folders during their first year of membership. These folders provide a nice binder for the short term but will inevitably fill up as a member's 4-H career progresses.

- 1.) This year's Ogle County Project Honor Award Application.
- 2.) This year's news clippings.
- 3.) This year's project records. – Attachment A
(Project records should be bound in alphabetical order by project area. Project areas are things like: aerospace, beef, clothing, foods, small engines, and visual arts. Do not alphabetize specific project units. As an example, the foods project "Cooking 101" would not be alphabetized under "C." It would be alphabetized under "F" for "Foods.")

If animal production record forms are completed, they should be placed right behind the corresponding project record. Any photos should be kept behind the years project record.
- 4.) Last Year's Records for 2023 – 2024.
 - Last Year's Ogle County Project Honor Award Application
 - Last Year's News clippings
 - Last Year's project records (filed in alphabetical order. Animal record completed behind the corresponding project record. Any photos should be kept behind the year's project and animal record. Tabs recommended.
- 5.) Previous Year Records. File by year, following the order for last year's records.
