Workshop Descriptions

All About Beavers!

Instructor: Abigail Bye

Description: Learn all about one of our local wetlands most common resident, the beaver! See how these amazing engineers construct their lodges and dams. Can you build as well as a beaver? 4-H'ers will take on the challenge and get their hands dirty to build their very own beaver environments out of natural materials!

Build a Fish

Instructor: Frank Sladek

Description: Participants will learn about fish anatomy including fins, teeth, scales, and slime. The session will end with students building fish models of clay, which can then be taken home.

Cloud Dough

Instructor: Abigail Kolthoff and Jozzy Mundy

Description: Learn how to make cloud dough!

Cozy Bird Cabin

Instructor: Eduardo Ochoa, Salvador Terrazas and Willard Rozanas

Description: Come one and come all! Come build your own, state-of-the-art, luxury, cozy bird cabin. Where pine is fine, and cypress is timeless. In this class, you will have the ultimate pleasure of not only constructing, but decorating your bird's, five-star hotel. As well as learning interesting facts and statistics about our resident feathered friends. Your birds will thank you!

Creating a Realistic Animal Mask - (2 Hour Class)

Instructor: Brielle Fleming

Description: Using a cardboard cat mask, learn how to felt and paint, add cardboard to change the shape/contour, and fur accents to design a realistic animal mask for Halloween or play!

Crochet Crafts

Instructor: Katie Williamson, EPC, 4-H New Audiences

Description: Have you ever wanted to learn how to to crochet? Join us to learn how to crochet a chain, the beginning to every crochet project. Once you have the basics down, we'll turn your chain into a fun craft to take home!

Crushed Glass

Instructor: Carrie Pilz

Description: Participants will learn how to turn recycled crushed glass into a picture/design on a canvas. We will use UV epoxy to create two small pictures.

Engineering Balsa Wood Bridges

Instructor: Liam Ellingson

Description: Students will be learning some principles of engineering by constructing bridges out of balsa wood and hot glue to hold weight between two tables, with a competition to see who's bridge can hold the most weight.

Floriculture—Bouquet Making

Instructor: Tally Lalor, 4-H Youth Development Program Coordinator

Description: Participants will create their own bouquet after learning about the background and anatomy of each flower, and its purpose in the arrangement.

Livestock Skillathon

Instructor: Dan Jennings, State 4-H Livestock Specialist & Educator

Description: Interested in animals? Then consider attending this workshop and putting your knowledge to work. Participants will engage in hands-on activities as they participate in a mini-livestock skillathon, as well as learn about different types of injections. Come and test your livestock knowledge.

Make Your Own Mug

Instructor: Addison Solem & Martha Stark

Description: Come have some fun and decorate a blank mug anyway you want with sharpies! Once your design and creation are complete your mug will go into the oven to bake for 2 hours!

No Bake Pet Treats

Instructor: Lydia Ward and Abigail Bye

Description: Participants will have the choice between making homemade dog treats or horse treats (large animal).

No Fail Speeches

Instructor: Dawn & Abigail Rozanas

Description: If someone asked you about your pet, you could probably tell them everything they wanted to know, and some funny stories too! In a way, that is a speech. In this workshop, you will learn how to create a no fail speech aka the 1-minute speech. It is something that everyone can do! It doesn't matter if you're an extrovert or introvert, shy or outgoing, or your level of experience. So, are you nervous when speaking in front of others? No problem! Do you love talking to a group? That's great too! By the time this workshop is finished, you will realize that you are actually an amazing public speaker, and you will be armed with tips and tricks for the future!

Painted Animal Faces

Instructor: Annabell Bonte

Description: Paint animal faces on wooden ornaments!

Snowman Science

Instructor: Kathy Dombek, EPC, 4-H New Audiences

Description: The participants will predict what insulation materials best preserve ice from melting. At scheduled intervals, they will check and record their progress of their experiment. The movie "The Snowman" will play between scheduled experiment checks.

Soap-tacular: DIY Soap Fun

Instructor: Abigail Nelson, Extension Educator, 4-H Youth Development

Description: Participants will learn the basics of soap-making, including safety, melting, cooling, and adding scents, all while expressing their creativity and having fun! Kids will leave with their own handmade soap and an outline of how to do soap crafts at home.

Take Me to Thailand

Instructor: Lillian Kennedy

Description: Join former 4-H'er, Lillian Kennedy, on an exotic journey to South Asia. Learn to write your name in Thai, speak basic Thai phrases, try Thai food and explore Thai geography, culture, and music.

The Leather Shop

Instructor: Anne Kennedy

Description: 4-H'ers will learn basic leather crafting, leather care, and finishing from master leather worker, Anne Kennedy. Each student will create their own hand stamped leather bookmark. Come see if this amazing hobby could become your artistic passion.

Vision Boards

Instructor: Abigail & Dawn Rozanas

Description: Did you know that those who write down their goals are more likely to achieve them? Not only this, but individuals who create visual representations of their dreams and aspirations are 90% more likely to see them come to pass? It may sound unlikely, but it's true! Do you have big dreams or maybe small ones? Everyone has goals and visions, no matter the age! Whether it be adopting a certain breed of dog, or even a future occupation. Come learn how to achieve your future! 4-H'ers will leave with a personalized gratitude list, goal journal, and their own vision board.
