

Certified Food Protection Managers

A “Certified Food Protection Manager” course – formally Food Service Sanitation Manager Certification – involves a minimum of 8 hours of training and passing an ANSI-approved exam. Every 5 years, individuals are recertified in the same process.

For more about the CFPM course and exam, visit in the Illinois Department of Public Health site at <https://dph.illinois.gov/topics-services/food-safety/fssmc>.

Classes with Illinois Extension

Classes are offered by Illinois Extension in or around DeWitt, Macon, and Piatt counties each year. For information on upcoming classes, visit go.illinois.edu/dmp or call your local Extension office.

Other Class Options

If an Illinois Extension class does not meet your needs, use the resources below to find another class.

Company Name (Contact Name)	Register by...
	Phone	Website
University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (Beth Reutter)*		illinoisfoodsantiationtraining.com
Safe Food Handlers Corporation*	888-793-5136	sfhcorp.com
		(Click on “Classroom Courses” and then “Illinois Downstate”)
Corporate Training Center, Ltd. (CTC)	800-705-8204	ctcfoodsantiation.com
		(Click on “Classes” on the top tab and then “Downstate Classes”)
S'Ville Co (Sue Summerville)	217-684-2435	svilleco.com

*Where online training is available, you will have to sit for the exam in-person. Directions will be given on where you can do this.

Last updated 12/2020

University of Illinois Extension provides this information as a courtesy and does not endorse any company, products, or services over another.