

BEGINNING GARDENER

FROM SITE SELECTION TO HARVEST

During our time of quarantine there is still one thing we can all do and that is garden! Whether you have space to install as many beds as you like or are limited to a patio garden full of beautifully potted plants, this webinar series will help you navigate all the different questions that may arise in starting your new hobby.

Week 1:

Tuesday, April 7- Site Selection and Preparation

Thursday, April 9- Soils

Week 2:

Tuesday, April 14- Plant Selection

Thursday, April 16- Plant Nutrition

Week 3:

Tuesday, April 21- Succession Planting & Companion Planting. This will be a 2 hour class.

Thursday, April 23- Harvesting and Produce Storage

This webinar will take place on Tuesdays and Thursdays between April 7 and April 23 from 6pm to 7pm.

They will be live webinars using the Zoom media platform. Please register at: go.illinois.edu/thebeginninggardener
Zoom links will be sent out closer to the program day.

