

Dana Beeley Humanitarian Award

May win one time.

Nominees should be true humanitarians, always willing to go the extra mile to help someone in need. Selection is not made on the basis of outstanding accomplishments in project work or record keeping, but rather an individual's attitude of helpfulness and encouragement to others. A "behind the scenes 4-H'er" is an ideal candidate for this award. Those people who do things, not for the recognition it will bring them, but for the knowledge that they are helping others and the personal satisfaction they get from working for a cause.
